

Biographies

Joseph G. Brennan is Professor of Philosophy emeritus, Barnard College, Columbia University and the Naval War College. He has authored seven books, including Ethics and Morals and Foundations of Moral Obligation: The Stockdale Course. He and his wife live in Stony Brook, New York.

Martin Cook is Associate Professor at Santa Clara University, and has served twice as Visiting Professor, Department of Philosophy and Fine Arts, United States Air Force Academy.

John H. Dalton is currently serving as Secretary of the Navy. He holds an MBA from the University of Pennsylvania, as well as a BS from the US Naval Academy. He and his family currently reside in Washington, DC.

Manuel M. Davenport is Professor of Philosophy and Director of Graduate Programs at Texas A&M University. He has also twice served as Distinguished Visiting Professor, Department of Philosophy and Fine Arts, United States Air Force Academy. Research and publications include works in military ethics and Continental philosophy.

William P. Dillon (Capt, CHC, USN) is a Staff Chaplain assigned to the Commander, Naval Educational Training Center. He holds a Ph.D. in Culture and Religion from Union Theological Seminary. A Roman Catholic priest since 1968, he joined the Navy in 1977, and has served in a variety of Navy and Marine billets.

Nick Fotion is

David K. Hart is

Kenneth Kemp is Associate Professor of Philosophy at the University of St. Thomas in Minnesota. He has served active duty tours of duty in both the US Army and the US Air Force. Research and publications includes works in military ethics, the philosophy of science and the moral philosophy of St. Thomas.

Tibor R. Machan is Professor of Philosophy at Auburn University, Alabama. He is the author of a number of articles and books, including Private Rights, Public Illusions (1994), The Virtue of Liberty (1994), Human Rights and Human Liberties (1975), and The Pseudo-Science of B. F. Skinner (1971).

Mark D. Mensack (Capt, USA) is Instructor of Philosophy, United States Military Academy at West Point. He holds an MA in philosophy from the University of Pennsylvania and a BA from the University of Scranton, PA. He was commissioned an Armor officer in 1984.

James H. Toner is Professor of International Relations and Military Ethics, US Air War College, AL. He holds a Ph.D. from the University of Notre Dame, and is the author of True Faith and Allegiance: The Burden of Military Ethics (forthcoming), The Sword and the Cross: Reflections on Command and Conscience, and The American Military Ethic: A Meditation (1991).

Patrick R. Tower is Associate Professor of Philosophy, US Air Force Academy. He is the author of a great number of trashy romance novels (nom de plume: Long Dong Holt), and aspires to emulate his mentor, Dr. Jeffrey A. Zink (but of course he can't)